

Email Campaign

By Cristian Diaz

01. Overview

The Email campaign was tested across multiple email clients to check layout, responsiveness, animations, and interactive. The main goal was to make sure that it rendered consistently across different clients, and to make sure that all the design and interactivity elements worked.

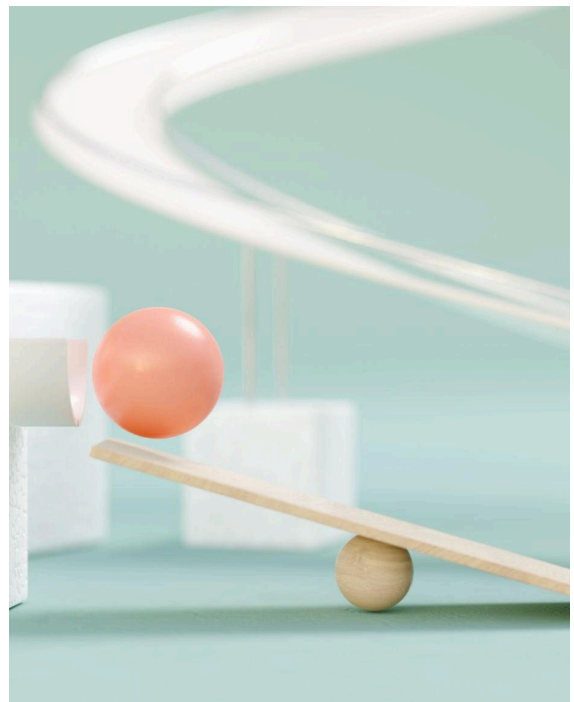

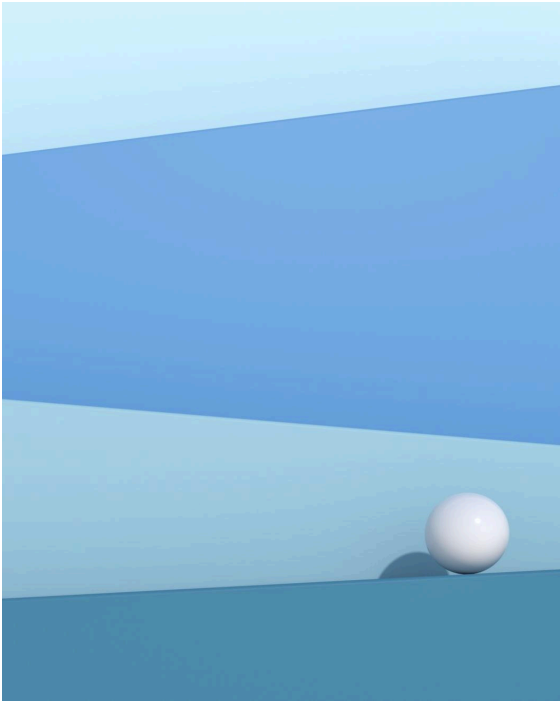

02. Clients Tested

- a. Gmail
- b. Apple mail
- c. Outlook
- d. Aol mail

03. Notes

I hosted images on github pages to make sure they loaded in all the clients, the animations worked in all the clients but were ignored on the outlook client. The email was fully readable however the button was not showing up on outlook and the functions were not working correctly. But overall the email worked for the other clients.

04. Conclusion

Overall the email campaign works consistently across all major email clients although the button and interactivity did not really work on outlook client.
